

End Human Trafficking:

Educate yourself and the youth in your life.

Watch and share Shared Hope International's "CHOSEN" sex trafficking prevention videos available on YouTube and DVD, which come with discussion guides and are available to borrow at TCCAPC's office.

Learn the signs.

Learn the signs at TulareCountyHTresources.com/signs or the "Victim ID" tab in the GraceCity app. The more you are familiar, the more you may be the eyes to see trafficking in our midst.

Keep help in your phone.

Put the National Human Trafficking Hotline number, 888-373-7888, and the text line 233-733 (BeFree) in your phone and use it for information and help. Download the GraceCity app for one touch lifelines.

Post human trafficking awareness posters.

Get posters from the Tulare County District Attorney's Office (call 636-5494) to reach out to potential victims and those who may have witnessed trafficking.

Be a resource on the GraceCity App.

The GraceCity App connects first responders and service providers with services to help those affected by human trafficking. We need people and groups who can be a resource. Get more information at tularecountyhtresources.com, "GraceCity App FAQ" page.
